Independent Auditors' Report

The Board of Directors
The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals:

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (the ASPCA), which comprise the balance sheets as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly in all material respects, the financial position of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals as of December 31, 2012 and 2011, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended, in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2012 and 2011

(1) Description of the Organization

The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (the ASPCA) is North America's first humane organization. The ASPCA provides effective means for the prevention of cruelty to animals throughout the United States. It has been headquartered in New York City since its founding in 1866 where it maintains a strong local presence. The ASPCA's activities are focused on five primary program areas: animal health services, public education and communications, anticruelty programs, community outreach and grants and sponsorships to other animal welfare-related organizations. The ASPCA is a privately funded 501(c)(3) not-for-profit corporation. The ASPCA's vision is that all animals are to be treated with respect and kindness.

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP).

(b) Net Asset Classifications

The ASPCA's net assets, revenues, gains, and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, the net assets of the ASPCA and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Unrestricted – resources that are available for the general support of the ASPCA's operations. The ASPCA's Board of Directors (Board) has approved the establishment of a long-term investment policy for operating reserves (designated fund) to ensure the stability of the mission, programs, employment, and ongoing operations of the ASPCA and to provide a source of internal funds for organization priorities.

Temporarily Restricted – net assets that have been limited by donor-imposed restrictions that expire with the passage of time or that can be fulfilled by actions of the ASPCA pursuant to those restrictions. When a time restriction or purpose restriction is satisfied, those temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statements of activities as net asset released from restrictions.

Permanently Restricted – net assets whereby donors have stipulated that the principal contributed be invested and retained in perpetuity, with investment return available for expenditure according to the restrictions, if any, imposed by those donors. Such resources also include the ASPCA's beneficial interests in perpetual trusts held by others.

(c) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents are defined as short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, except for those cash equivalents included in the ASPCA's investment portfolio that are held for long-term investment purposes.

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2012 and 2011

(d) Fair Value

Fair value is the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. Observable inputs are inputs that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on market data obtained from independent sources. Unobservable inputs reflect assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on the best information available in the circumstances.

The ASPCA measures the fair value of its financial assets using a fair value hierarchy that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the observable inputs be used when available. The hierarchy is categorized into three levels using the following guidelines:

- Level 1 Inputs are quoted prices in active markets for identical assets, which are directly observable at year-end.
- Level 2 Inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets, which may be directly or indirectly observable at year-end. Also included in Level 2 are investments measured using a net asset value (NAV) per share, or its equivalent, that may be redeemed at that NAV at or near the balance sheet date.
- Level 3 Holdings that have little or no pricing observability at year-end. These are measured using management's best estimate of fair value, where inputs to determine fair value are not observable and require significant management judgment and estimation. Also included in Level 3 are investments measured using a NAV per share, or its equivalent, that cannot be redeemed at the NAV near the balance sheet date, or for which redemption at NAV is uncertain due to lockup periods or other investment restrictions.

The carrying value of cash, cash equivalents, prepaid expenses and other assets, accounts payable and accrued expenses, and grants payable is a reasonable estimate of their fair value due to their short-term nature. The carrying amounts of the ASPCA's investments and beneficial interest in trusts held by others approximate fair value. The carrying value of bequests and contributions receivable is estimated based on the present value of expected future cash flows from these receivables, and thus approximates fair value.

(e) Split-Interest Agreements

The ASPCA has recognized the following type of split-interest agreements:

Perpetual Trusts Held by a Third Party

Donors have established and funded trusts that are administered by third-party organizations. Under the terms of these trusts, the ASPCA has the irrevocable right to receive all or a portion of the income earned on the trust assets either in perpetuity or for the life of the trust. The ASPCA does not control the assets held by the respective third-party trustees. Accordingly, the ASPCA recognizes its interest in such trusts, based on the fair value of the assets contributed to the trusts and records them as permanently restricted contributions.

Charitable Remainder Trusts

Donors have established and funded trusts under which specified distributions are to be made to a designated beneficiary or beneficiaries over the trusts' term. Upon termination of the trust's term, the ASPCA receives their interest in the assets remaining in those trusts. Trusts are recorded as increases to net assets at the fair value of trust assets, less the present value of the estimated future payments to be made under the specific terms of the trusts.

Charitable Gift Annuities

Donors have contributed assets to the ASPCA in exchange for a promise by the ASPCA to pay a fixed amount or percentage for a specified period of time to such donors or to individuals or organizations designated by those donors. Under the terms of such agreements, no trusts exist as the assets received are held by, and the annuity liability is an obligation of, the ASPCA. The discount rates used to measure the liabilities ranged from 1.0% to 1.6% at December 31, 2012 and 1.4% to 3.0% at December 31, 2011.

Split-interest agreements are recognized as revenue when notification of an irrevocable split-interest agreement exists and when fair value can reasonably be determined.

(f) Investments

The ASPCA's investments in debt and equity securities are reported at fair value and are based upon quoted market prices. The alternative investments are reported at estimated fair value using the investee's NAV per share or its equivalent, as a practical expedient. These values are provided by the fund managers. The values are reviewed by the ASPCA for reasonableness. Due to the inherent uncertainty of these estimates, these values may differ significantly from values that would have been used had a readily available market for such investments existed, and such differences could be material.

Investment transactions are accounted for on the dates the purchases or sales are executed (trade date). Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date; interest income is recorded as earned on the accrual basis.

(g) Land, Building, and Equipment

Land owned by the ASPCA is stated at cost. Buildings and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation that is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Repairs and maintenance that do not improve or extend the life of the respective asset are charged to expense as incurred. At the time fixed assets are retired or disposed of, the fixed asset and related accumulated depreciation accounts are relieved of the applicable amounts, and any gain or loss is credited or charged to current operations. Fixed assets costing greater than $1,000 (computers) or $2,000 (all other fixed assets) and with a useful life of greater than one year are capitalized.

(h) Contributions and Memberships

Unless specifically restricted by the donor, all contributions are considered to be available for unrestricted use. Contributions are recognized as income, at their fair value, when they become unconditional promises to give. Contributions of securities and other tangible assets are recorded at fair value at the date of gift. Conditional contributions and promises to give are recorded as revenue when the conditions on which they depend have been substantially met.

(i) Animal Health Service Fees

Animal health service fee revenues, primarily from the animal hospital and animal poison control center, are recognized when services have been performed.

(j) Bequests and Trusts

Bequests are recorded as income when notification of an irrevocable right to receive such assets exists and when a fair value can reasonably be determined. Bequests and contributions receivable are expected to be received within one year.

(k) Grants and Sponsorships

The ASPCA enters into various grant and sponsorship agreements. Revenue relating to these agreements is recognized in accordance with the terms and conditions included therein. Grant contributions are recorded at fair value and discounted if due in over one year. Grants are evaluated to determine if they represent an exchange transaction or contribution. If determined to be an exchange transaction, the grant is recognized as expenses are incurred.

(1) Royalties, Licenses, and Other

The ASPCA enters into various agreements that provide royalty and licensing revenues. Revenues relating to royalty contracts are recognized in accordance with the terms and conditions included therein.

(m) Donated Services and Gifts in Kind

A substantial number of volunteers have donated significant amounts of time to the ASPCA's activities and the majority of this donated time is not reflected in these financial statements. Contributed services are reported at fair value in the financial statements only when those services (1) create or enhance nonfinancial assets or (2) require specialized skills provided by individuals possessing those skills and are services, which would be typically purchased if not provided by donation. The ASPCA reported contributed services revenue and related expense for the year ended December 31, 2012, of approximately $65,000.

Donated materials are reported at fair value at the date of the donation. The ASPCA reported donated materials revenue and related expense for the year ended December 31, 2012, of approximately $761,000, primarily in support of the ASPCA's response to Hurricane Sandy.

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2012 and 2011

(n) Grants

Grants are recorded as an expense and a liability based on funds committed per the grant agreements once final approval by the grants department has occurred. No grant payments may be made prior to the final approval.

(o) Functional Allocation of Expenses

Expenses are presented according to the programs for which they were incurred and are summarized on a functional basis in the accompanying statements of activities. The various programs and supporting services of the ASPCA are as follows:

Animal health services — includes the Bergh Memorial Animal Hospital and mobile spay/neuter clinics in New York City and the Animal Poison Control Center and a 24-hour animal poison control telephone hotline in Urbana, Illinois.

Public education and communications – includes activities to create public awareness of animal-related issues.

Anticruelty programs – includes humane law enforcement in New York as well as national, state, and local legislative initiatives, as well as animal behavior, animal field investigative and animal forensic activities.

Community outreach – includes a state-of-the-art animal adoptions center in New York City and extensive outreach, education, and training programs in communities throughout the United States.

Grants and sponsorships – represents programs designed to ensure the ASPCA's leadership in serving the animal welfare field.

Membership development and fund-raising – involves the direction of the overall fund-raising affairs of the ASPCA, which include development and related areas.

Management and general – includes the direction of the overall affairs of the ASPCA, such as portions of accounting, human resources, administration, and related areas.

(p) Special Events

The ASPCA holds special events each year, such as the Bergh Ball, the Humane Awards Luncheon, the Young Friends Benefit and the Team ASPCA Marathons. The revenue generated from these events for 2012 and 2011 was $2,118,713 and $1,934,331, respectively, and are presented net of expenses of $1,480,311 and $1,369,640. The net amounts for 2012 and 2011 of $638,402 and $564,691 are included in royalties, licenses and other in the statements of activities.

(q) Concentration of Market and Credit Risks

Financial instruments that potentially subject the ASPCA to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash, cash equivalents, and investments. The ASPCA maintains its cash and cash equivalents in various bank deposit accounts that may exceed federally insured limits at times. To minimize risk, the ASPCA's cash accounts are placed with high-credit quality financial institutions, while the ASPCA's investment portfolio is diversified with several investment managers in a variety of asset classes. The ASPCA regularly evaluates its depository arrangements and investments, including performance thereof.

(r) Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The more significant estimates relate to the valuation of the pension benefit obligation, alternative investments, annuity obligations, and the beneficial interest in third-party trusts; the useful lives of fixed assets; the functional allocation of expenses; and the collectibility of receivables. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(s) Measure of Operations

The ASPCA uses the "change in net assets from operating activities" as the measure of net assets that are available to support current and future programs and services. Operating activities include all revenues and expenses related to carrying out the ASPCA's mission. Nonoperating activities include bequest and trust income restricted for endowment, changes in beneficial interests in perpetual trusts held by others, actuarial adjustments to the ASPCA's frozen pension plan, and other activities considered to be of a more unusual or nonrecurring nature. In addition, in 2011, the ASPCA adopted a spending policy under which a predetermined amount of investment return is authorized to fund operations. The difference between the actual investment return and the amount authorized to fund operations is reported as nonoperating.

(t) Income Taxes

The ASPCA qualifies as a tax-exempt organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), and is not subject to federal income taxes. Accordingly, donors are entitled to a charitable contribution deduction as defined in the IRC. Continued qualification of tax-exempt status is contingent upon compliance with the requirements of the IRC.

The ASPCA recognizes the effects of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not of being sustained. No provision for income taxes was required for 2012 or 2011.

(u) Reclassifications

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

(v) Adoption of Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncement

In October 2012, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2012-05 (Update No. 2012-05), Statement of Cash Flows (Topic 230): Not-for-Profit Entities: Classification of the Sale Proceeds of Donated Financial Assets in the Statement of Cash Flows (a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force). The guidance requires not-for-profit organizations to classify contributed financial assets that they intend to sell immediately or in the near term as cash flows from operating activities in the statement of cash flows if there are no donor – imposed restrictions for long-term purposes on the use of the contributed assets. Update No. 2012-05 is effective for fiscal years beginning after June 15, 2013. Commencing January 1, 2012, the ASPCA elected to early adopt the provisions of Update No. 2012-05 for contributed securities meeting the specified criteria and the prior year statement of cash flows was reclassified for such amounts previously reported as cash flows from investing activities. Adoption of the provisions of Update No. 2012-05 resulted in the classification of $1,313,499 and $566,984 of contributed securities received for the fiscal years ended December 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively, as cash flows from operating activities in the accompanying statements of cash flows.

(4) Beneficial Interests in Trusts Held by Others

Included as beneficial interests in trusts held by others in the accompanying balance sheets are remainder interests in several irrevocable trusts. The present value of the ASPCA's share of future interests in charitable remainder trusts amounted to approximately $1,380,000 and $2,374,000 at December 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively, and has been included in temporarily restricted net assets. The present values of the trusts are calculated using discount rates ranging from 4.0% to 10.6% at December 31, 2012 and 2011. Beneficial interests in perpetual third-party trusts of approximately $16,318,000 and $14,873,000, valued at the ASPCA's share of the fair value of the underlying trust assets, are included in permanently restricted net assets at December 31, 2012 and 2011, respectively.

At December 31, 2012 and 2011, the ASPCA's beneficial interests in trusts held by third-party trustees were classified as Level 3 instruments within the fair value hierarchy. The following table summarizes the

In December 2011, the ASPCA entered into fixed-price construction contract for the renovation of its 92nd Street property. Approximately $14,000,000 has been committed to the renovation of the 92nd Street property. As of December 31, 2012, approximately $12,365,000 has been spent toward this renovation project. Completion of the renovation is estimated to be August 30, 2013.

The ASPCA owns a building and land adjoining its headquarters facility in New York City, which is occupied by a commercial tenant under a ten-year lease (with a five-year renewal option) that commenced in September 2006. Rental payments increase 3% each year plus payment of property taxes, utilities, and normal maintenance. As of December 31, 2012, minimum, future rental income under this lease is as follows:

2013	$ 300,752
2014	309,774
2015	319,068
2016	180,630
	$ 1,110,224

Total rental income recognized by the ASPCA in 2012 and 2011 was $279,968 and $280,592, respectively, which was recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease, and is included in other revenues in the accompanying statements of activities. Depreciation expense of $85,640 for both 2012 and 2011, respectively, related to the leased premises was netted against rental income.

(6) Pension Plan

The ASPCA has a defined benefit pension plan that was frozen effective June 30, 2006. All participants will receive benefits accrued through that date. Benefits under the plan are generally based on years of service and average compensation during the highest five years of employment. Annual contributions are determined by the ASPCA based upon calculations performed by the plan's actuary.

The actuarial present value of the benefit obligation recognized in the accompanying balance sheets at December 31 is as follows:

	_	2012	2011

The Finance Committee of the Board of Directors determines the allocation of plan assets and the external money managers based on recommendations of an independent investment advisor. The investment strategy for pension assets has a long-term horizon, with a preference for lower volatility, in keeping with the long-term nature of the benefit liabilities. The following tables categorize the inputs used to report the fair value of the plan's investments within the fair value hierarchy as of December 31, 2012 and 2011:

The ASPCA matches 100% of pretax employee contributions up to 4% of eligible compensation in each pay period. Employee and matching employer contributions are immediately 100% vested. Additional employer contributions are also made as a percentage of compensation in each pay period. These additional contributions are fully vested for employees who have attained at least three years of eligible service. (7) Commitments and Contingencies

The ASPCA holds leases in Queens, New York, Washington DC and Urbana, Illinois. The aggregate commitment under these leases will be charged to expense on a straight-line basis over the terms of respective leases. The ASPCA's aggregate annual minimum rental obligations at December 31, 2012, for facilities under operating leases expiring through 2026, are:

The ASPCA, along with at least three other entities, was a party to a pending civil litigation matter. The ASPCA entered into a settlement agreement in 2012.

In addition, the ASPCA is a defendant in several lawsuits arising in the normal course of operations. While outside counsel cannot predict the outcome of such litigation, management does not expect the outcome to have a material effect on the financial position, changes in net assets, and cash flows of the ASPCA.

(10) Endowment Net Assets

The ASPCA's endowment includes both donor-restricted endowment funds and funds designated by the trustees to function as endowments. The ASPCA's donor-restricted endowment funds are subject to the provisions of the New York Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (NYPMIFA).

Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 958-205, Endowments of Not-for-Profit Organizations: Net Asset Classification of Funds Subject to an Enacted Version of the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA) and Enhanced Disclosures for All Endowment Funds, provides guidance on classifying the net assets associated with donor-restricted endowment funds held by organizations that are subject to an enacted version of UPMIFA. The ASPCA classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of the subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in permanently restricted net assets is classified as temporarily restricted net assets until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the Board of Directors in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by NYPMIFA.

At December 31, 2012 and 2011, permanently restricted net assets of $23,091,628 and $21,888,552 consisted of donor-restricted endowment funds of $6,773,926 and $7,015,100 and beneficial interests in perpetual trusts totaling $16,317,702 and $14,873,452, respectively. Permanently restricted net assets are restricted to investment in perpetuity, with investment return available to support current operations.
